FALL PLOWING.

The Herring Riding Plow and Single Plow continue to prove themselves the best in the market. All fitted up with the Finest Steel Mouldboard manufactured in the world—"Black Diamond Steel" manufactured at Pittsburgh, Penn. We are daily hearing gratifying reports of the working of these plows. Buy no other without looking at the new Dominion Single Plow and Monarch Riding Plow. Read what people say who use these Plows:

JOHN HERRING, ESQ., Napanee.

NAPANEE, 14th Sept., 1892.

Dear Sir,—I am getting splendid satisfaction from the Riding Plow bought from you. This is my third season with it. I understand how to work it perfectly. So much so that I can do work most satisfactorily where I could not operate with a single plow. Contrary to my expectations it draws lighter in hard ground than the single plow. The beauty of it is you can gauge the depth to be plowed very exactly. I would not do without it.

Signed GED. S. CHAMBERS.

MR. JOHN HERRING, Napanee.

Dear Sir,—I am thoroughly well pleased with the "Monarch" Sulky Plow bought from you last year. I can do more and better work than I could with the Walking Plow. I did my ridging up last fall, and finished when no other plow would do the work. It has never clogged, and I have plowed my fields when no other plow would work. I would not take $100.00 for it, if I could not get another.

Signed JOHN V. SMITH.

COLLINSKY, Sept. 20th, 1892.

Odessa.

A fire occurred here on Sunday, while not incurring an enormous loss of property, was very disastrous in its effects. The small frame house on the farm of Daly Thomas, one mile north of Odessa, tenanted by Philander Donnelly and wife, was burned to the ground. Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly were in Kingston at the time and returned to find all they possessed in the world in ashes. They are fit subjects for practical sympathy. John Graham, porter at the Dominion Hotel, was cutting wood the other day, when the axe slipping, inflicted a bad gash on the side of the foot. He had the wound stitched and will limp around with the aid of crutches for a few days.

Wm Clark and Sidney McConnell, a couple of Asselvine's commercial travellers in the interest of the chair company, were held up by highwaymen, between Ottawa and Perth last week. They reached home penniless and forlorn.

In ye good old days when the men of today were boys, it was a time honored custom in Odessa, for the lads to visit a hen roost and help themselves to one or two chickens at the most and go up like for a stew. The boys of today while indulging in the same sport are hardly as considerate as their predecessors. Within the last two months several complaints have been made by citizens suffering from these depredations. In one instance, twenty two fowl were taken from one roost and about twenty-five on another raid. This is carrying the fun a little too far, and we advise the boys to be careful. Steps are being taken, that if successful, will put some of them behind the bars.

The Anglican church, having decided to have no entertainment on show night, the Methodists will be on deck with a grand musical and elocutionary programme, rendered by foreign and local talent.

A Good Suggestion.—By constipation is meant irregular action of the bowels, often called costiveness, and commonly caused by dyspepsia, neglect, excess in eating or drinking, etc. It is a serious complaint and not to be neglected under any circumstances, as it tends to impure the blood, headache, dizziness, fever, etc. A uniformly successful remedy is Burdock Blood Purifiers, which, if faithfully tried, never fails to effect a prompt and lasting cure even in the worst cases. The following extract from a letter from Mr. Jas. M. Carson, Banff, N. W. T., will speak for itself: "I have been troubled with constipation and general debility and was induced to use your B. B. through seeing your advertisement. I now take great pleasure in recommending it to all my friends, as it completely cured me."

NAPANEE, FRIDAY, SEPT. 23, 1892.

EVEN the Jingoist Toronto News bravely confesses that "the National Policy as understood by the present government is a dead duck," and points out that the Central Farmers' Institute and the Dominion Trades and Labor congress have declared for free trade. The Tories have now no policy but bribery. They will continue to purchase constituencies with the people's money.

It is an excellent omen of coming success to find journals that have always whipped into the government line on the day of battle, now openly preaching political independence. We do not take it as a sign of change of heart, for at the critical moment we shall see them once more in the old place, and bringing all their power and influence to support the Conservative party. It, however, signifies that a change is coming over the people at large and that a large circulation can no longer be kept up by merely vilifying the Grits.

If the returns of the state elections held during the present month are to be regarded as an indication of the result of the great Presidential contest which comes off in six weeks, the prospects for Mr. Harrison's re-election are not very bright. In Alabama and Arkansas the Democrats held their ground, but in Vermont and Maine the Republicans lost heavily. In Vermont the Republican majority was cut down from 28,000 to 17,000, and at the Maine election on Monday the Republican majority for the governorship was reduced from 18,000 in 1888 and 19,000 in 1890 to 11,000. A similar reduction throughout the Northern and western sections of the republic will give Cleveland an immense majority of the electoral vote.

In his address opening the state fair at Syracuse, Governor Flower of New York referred to the manner in which the farmers of the United States are being injured by the McKinley tariff, the American edition of our own Foster tariff. He said: "In recent years the conditions of agricultural competition have radically changed, and the enormous body of citizens engaged in tilling the soil are suffering the evils of serious depression in markets and prices. Their boys and girls are leaving the farms for the towns and cities. Distress is everywhere too prevalent." What McKinleyism is doing for the farmers of the United States, Fosterism is doing for the farmers of Canada. In both countries the agriculturists are being robbed for the benefit of combinesters and speculators.

MR. EDGAR AND HIS TRADUCERS.

Last session Mr. J. D. Edgar, as a member of the House of Commons, made certain charges against Sir Adolphe Caron. He reduced them to writing and demanded an enquiry. Sir John Thompson, leader of the House of Commons, refused point-blank at first to entertain the proposition; but subsequently, by reason of the public agitation resulting from this decision he recognized that he had made a tactical mistake.

Thereupon Hon. Mackenzie Bowell took Mr. Edgar's charges, excised some of them, added others that Mr. Edgar never made, and referred them to a Royal Commission practically appointed by the accused. Then Mr. Edgar was invited to come forward and prove the charges as referred.

Mr. Edgar very properly declined to take any responsibility "for the prosecution of an inquiry under a reference which appears to have been skillfully drawn to baffle investigation and to do the bidding of Sir Adolphe Caron are now burdening their editorial pages with philippics against Mr. Edgar.

This is just what everybody expected they would do. It is what they are in existence for. But it is not at all necessary that Mr. Edgar should be defended: for the mere recital of the facts of the case are at once the explanation of his attitude and its justification. The decision of the commission will not have the slightest effect in re-habilitating Sir Adolphe's shattered character; rather the mutilating of the charges, and the manner in which it is proposed to investigate them go far to prove the accuracy of Mr. Edgar's charges.

SIDE TALKS WITH GIRLS.

Good Advice by Ruth Ashmore in the Ladies' Home Journal.

I do not mean the girl who is gentle in heart and thought, though, of course, I want every one of my girls to be that, but I mean the girl who is gentle in her movements and her speech. She is what you want to be. It is true you did not intend to knock over the chair as you entered the room, and it is equally true that you had no idea you were planting your feet down as if you wished to stamp the pattern out of the carpet—you did not intend to do these things, but you did them. You make a nervous woman start, the heavy step awakened a sleeping baby, and your entrance was very ungente. Then when you began to talk you raised your voice more than was necessary; as you grew interested in the conversation had it reach a shrill tone that was ear piercing. You managed to knock over a book, let your hair fall, and you tipped over a glass of water. None of these things are wrong, but they show a lack of consideration, and suggest that in yourself there must be a strain that does not belong to the gentle girl. Learn to walk quietly; learn to keep your eyes open, so that you may not trip over rugs nor cushions, chairs or tables. You see, I want you to be a gentle woman. It means very much. A sweet, low voice and a quiet manner are more convincing of the power of woman than all the loud talking and blustering imaginable. When I was a little girl I used to have sung to me a song that seemed to describe the finest little lady in the land, and there are two verses of it that I have never forgotten. In telling of the charms of this little lady these words come in, and I wish you would just remember them, and think over what a gentle manner and a low voice mean in a woman. This is the old ditty;

"Nelly Bly hath a voice
Sweet as a turtle dove,
You hear it in the meadow
And you hear it in the grove.
When she walks she lifts her foot
And then she puts it down
And when it lights there's music down
In that part of the town."

Do You Think So?

Do you think you could love the young man who sneers at his mother and sister?

Do you think you could love the young man who does not take the trouble to look his nearest when he comes to see you?

Do you think you could love the young man who forgets to remove his hat when he is talking to you in the hallway or on the veranda?

Do you think you could love the young man who is never thoughtful of your comfort, but only of his own?

Do you think you could love the young man who, while professing love to you, speaks about you in a careless way?

I do not think you could. And between you and me I most sincerely hope not only that you cannot love him, but that you will not.

Just One Small Word.

It is only a short one. But I want to say it for the girl who is downhearted. I want to say it to the one who is unhappy; to the one who is tired; to the one who is an invalid; and to the one to whom none of the good things of life seem to come; it is this: "Hope." If you keep on hoping from day to day and from day to day, you will never be entirely unhappy and, if with the hoping you do some helping you will be quite happy.

I know it is hard—this life we lead; but if we keep on hoping and helping, and hoping and helping, we will come in time to that other life of which we know nothing except that there will be no more weeping. "For God will wipe away all tears." So mark the word on your heart and keep it always before you—that one little word, Hope.

Minard's Liniment cures Distemper

—Magic Pile Lotion excels every other remedy of its class in the following particulars, viz:

- 1st. Its action is immediate and magical.
- 2nd. It is cheaper than any other in the market.
- 3rd. It is cleanly, leaving no stain on clothing or bedding.
- 4th. It is more easily applied than any other.

5th. It is equally efficient in External, Internal bleeding or Itching Piles.

6th. It is an excellent dressing for all kinds of painful wounds, abrasions, stings of insects or bees, etc. At all druggists in town.

Little Points of Deportment.

She is one of the nicest girls who writes me. But she is a little mistaken about one thing. There is no necessity for apologizing for asking a question that concerns her and her manners. The people who never ask anything seldom know anything. Frequently our eyes educate us; but I can understand how a bright girl prefers to know how to do the right thing and not make any mistakes. Her questions are not trivial. One's behavior at the table is of great importance, for a person who does not know how to eat properly, frequently takes away the appetite of her neighbor, a something which one has no right to do. So I am going to answer all her questions, believing that there are other girls who, while equally anxious to know what is right, are yet not willing to make themselves interrogation points and ask.

About bread and butter. It is not proper to take a slice of bread, butter it and then bite off whatever you desire. Instead, break off a small piece of bread as you need it, butter it and eat it from your fingers. Radishes, olives, celery, asparagus, long-stemmed berries, and most all fruits are also eaten from the fingers. When you eat asparagus, have the dressing put on one side of your plate, take the stalk between your first finger and your thumb, dip the end of it into the dressing, and lay the part that is not eaten in a neat way at one side of your plate. The daintiest way to eat an orange is from a fork; that is, the skin and its coarse fruit lining are pared off with a sharp fruit knife, the orange is stuck on a fork and is eaten exactly as one would an apple. Cheese may be taken between the fingers, or it may be put on a bit of bread with a knife, and eaten on that, but a fork is not used with it. Artichokes are, of course, eaten with the fingers, each leaf being dipped in the dressing.

All pastry is eaten with a fork, and it is an insult to the cook to touch it with a knife. In fact, your knife has no use except for cutting, or buttering something, and when it is resting it should be laid sideways on your plate. Every vegetable can be eaten with a fork, the uses of a spoon being limited to a few desserts and for your coffee or tea cup, and there its place is to repose in the saucer. Bouillon is drunk from the cups in which it is served when it is jellied it is eaten with a dessert spoon. Nothing excuses the chasing of a small particle of something to eat around your plate or polish it up. The old idea that one must eat everything that is given to one no longer exists, and the result is that children are not made gluttons. In drinking, remember to hold your goblet or wine-glass by the stem, and not by the bowl. While watermelon is eaten with a fork, canteloup has served with it a dessert spoon. As it is customary, nowadays, to have the salt served in open salt cellars, it may be mentioned that in helping one's self the salt should be put near the outer edge of one's plate. In leaving the table it is not necessary to fold your napkin; instead, just as you rise lay it on the table. I think I have answered all the questions of my interrogation point, and I applaud her for the asking what she would do when at the table.

Minard's Liniment cures Garget in Cows.

—Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely remedy. A trial bottle will convince you. Warranted by Detlor and Fullerton, Druggists."

The Most Effectual Cure For Gout and Rheumatism.—A frequent cause of these complaints is the inflammatory state of the blood, attended with bad digestion, indigestion, and great debility, showing the want of a proper circulation of the fluid, and that impurity of the blood greatly aggravates these disorders. Holloway's Pills are of so purifying a nature that a few doses taken in time are an effectual preventive against gout and rheumatism, but anyone that has an attack of either should use Holloway's Ointment also, the powerful properties of which combined with the effects of the Pills, ensure a certain cure. The Ointment should be thoroughly rubbed into the parts affected at least twice a day, after they have been sufficiently fomented with warm water to open the pores of the skin, and the introduction of the Ointment to the glands.

A DEMAND ON DIBBS.

A Man Elected by Labor Must Do Something for Labor.
SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 21.—A crowd numbering 6000 person sent a deputation to Sir G. R. Dibbs, Prime Minister and Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, to demand the release of the labor agitators who were arrested in connection with the strike at the Broken Hill mine.

The Prime Minister refused to see the deputation until to-morrow morning. This action incensed the crowd and they rushed to the House of Parliament and tried to effect an entrance, but were repulsed by armed policemen. Threats of violence were made, and it is feared the mob will attempt to release the prisoners from the jail.

THE OWEN ELECTRIC BELT

AND APPLIANCE CO.

49 KING ST. W., TORONTO, ONT.

G. C. PATTERSON, Mgr. for Canada.

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt,

Is now recognized as the greatest boon offered to suffering humanity. It is fast taking the place of drugs in all nervous and rheumatic troubles, and will effect cures in seemingly hopeless cases where every other known means has failed. It is nature's remedy, and by its steady, soothing current that is really felt,

POSITIVELY CURES

Rheumatism, Sciatica, General Debility, Lumbago, Nervous Diseases, Dyspepsia, Varicocele,	Sexual Weakness, Female Complaints, Impotency, Kidney Diseases, Liver Complaint, Lame Back, Urinary Diseases.

RHEUMATISM

It is a well known fact that medical science has utterly failed to afford relief in rheumatic cases. We venture the assertion that although Electricity has only been in use as a remedial agent for a few years, it has cured more cases of Rheumatism than all other means combined. Some of our leading physicians, recognizing this fact, are availing themselves of this most potent of nature's forces.

TO RESTORE MANHOOD

Thousands of people suffer from a variety of nervous diseases, such as Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Lost Manhood, Weak Back, etc., that find no relief in the ordinary means. There is a loss of nerve force or power that cannot be restored by medical treatment, and any doctor who would try to accomplish this by any kind of drugs is practising a dangerous form of charlatanism. Properly treated

THESE DISEASES CAN BE CURED

Electricity, as applied by the Owen Electric Belt and Suspensory, will immediately do so. It is the only known remedial agent that will supply what is lacking, namely, nerve force or power, impart tone and vigor to the organs and arouse to healthy action the whole nervous system.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

And the worthless, cheap, so-called Electric Belts advertised by some concerns and peddled through the country. They are electric in name only, worthless as a curative power, and dear at any price.

We Challenge the World to show an Electric Belt where the current is under control of the patient as completely as this.

A Consideration.

GENTLEMAN,—My brother suffered from summer complaint and was extremely weak. We tried many remedies but with out effect. At last my aunt advised us to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and before he had taken one bottle he was cured. We consider it saved his life.

MISS ADELAIDE CRITTENDEN, "Yes"
Baldwin, Ont.

—E. H. Asselstyn, Portsmouth, has secured a situation in Napanee. He will remove his family here. Mr. Asselstyn is a carriage builder.

The tobacco of Martinico was once the favorite with the smoking world, and when old Father Hennipen descended the Mississippi about 1680 the Indians were much surprised to see a European with such an excellent sample of their native plant. But the smokers of the "Myrtle Navy" would give but a poor account of the once celebrated Martinico. Their favorite brand is as much superior to it as it was to the raw and uncured leaf which the Indians of that day smoked.

There were many supremes in the Iron Hall but of the greatest supreme of all, to wit, the supreme gall, the officers of the (disorder) have little to say. It is amply able, however to speak for itself.

DISASTER.

He threw his arms around her neck,
And strained her to his breast,
And there they stood, for he had caught
His whiskers in her vest.

Mrs. Terwilliger—They are advertising building lots at fifty cents a week. Do you think they are intended for women investors? Terwilliger—No, my dear. If they were you'd see them marked at forty-nine cents.

Penelope—I don't like to see you dandling around with mere boys all the time. What do you find that's so interesting in that smooth-faced young Faris? Perdita—Why, Pen, his face isn't so smooth as it looks.

Henry—I meant to call on you last evening, Mary, but really, I—I—fact is, I don't know what to offer as an excuse. Mary—Oh, don't feel annoyed, Henry. Any excuse you care to offer will be amply sufficient.

Wanted to See Him.—Clara—I got a note from a drummer the other day who said he would give the world to kiss me. Maude—What did you reply? Clara—I told him to call on me with a full line of samples.

"Her father is quite an enthusiast," said young Mr. Park Avenue. "Does he not fire you with zeal?" "Yes," returned young Mr. Charles Street sadly, and with a surreptitious rub of his anatomy. "I just say, when I proposed for his daughter's hand, I was fired with zeal."

Gold not so Precious.

SIRS,—For several reasons we have relied on Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for all summer complaints. A few doses always gives relief and it never fails to cure. We think it a very valuable medicine; as precious as gold.

Little Points of Deportment.

She is one of the nicest girls who writes me. But she is a little mistaken about one thing. There is no necessity for apologizing for asking a question that concerns her and her manners. The people who never ask anything seldom know anything. Frequently our eyes educate us; but I can understand how a bright girl prefers to know how to do the right thing and not make any mistakes. Her questions are not trivial. One's behavior at the table is of great importance, for a person who does not know how to eat properly, frequently takes away the appetite of her neighbor, a something which one has no right to do. So I am going to answer all her questions, believing that there are other girls who, while equally anxious to know what is right, are yet not willing to make themselves interrogation points and ask.

The tobacco of Martinico was once the favorite with the smoking world, and when old father Hennipen descended the Mississippi about 1680 the Indians were much surprised to see a European with such an excellent sample of their native plant. But the smokers of the "Myrtle Navy" would give but a poor account of the once celebrated Martinico. Their favorite brand is as much superior to it as it was to the raw and uncured leaf which the Indians of that day smoked.

There were many supremes in the Iron Hall but of the greatest supreme of all, to wit, the supreme gall, the officers of the (dis)order have little to say. It is amply able, however to speak for itself.

DINASTEE.

He threw his arms around her neck,
And strained her to his breast,
And there they stuck, for he had caught
His whiskers in her vest.

Mrs. Terwilliger—They are advertising building lots at fifty cents a week. Do you think they are intended for women investors? Terwilliger—No, my dear. If they were you'd see them marked at forty-nine cents.

Penelope—I don't like to see you dangle around with mere boys all the time.
